ABOUT IRELAND

Dublin - Dublin, Ireland's capital, has fast become one of Europe's most vibrant and cosmopolitan cities. The city has always had a reputation as a great historical city, and its strong links with world literature and the arts are readily apparent. It certainly has a lot to offer visitors - not least it's diverse attractions. There is a wealth of architectural detail with the medieval core of the city surrounded by elegant Georgian squares. Sights to see in Dublin: Trinity College and the Book of Kells, the Guinness Storehouse, Dublin Writers Museum, St. Patrick's Cathedral, the Custom House, Dublin Castle, Ha'penny Bridge, Malahide Castle, Kilmainham Gaol, and much more!

TESTIMONIALS

"Our Irish tour was fantastic. It was quite a different experience than traveling to the UK. The people of Ireland are tremendously friendly. It was amazing to have posters up all over town advertising for our match against the locals and have people on the street come up and talk to you about the match. In addition to some great match play and training, the sights of Ireland were spectacular. We had the opportunity to experience the small towns and countryside, visiting places like Cliffs of Moher and Wicklow Mountains. We also enjoyed our time in Dublin and experienced all that Ireland's biggest city had to offer. Overall, our Ireland trip was a terrific experience. Being our 4th trip internationally, Ireland stacks right up there with the rest."
